The Handbook of China Financial System is a comprehensive and authoritative reference work on the intricacies of China's financial system. This handbook provides a detailed overview of the institutions, regulations, and economic environment that shape the Chinese financial landscape. It is an essential resource for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of the world's second-largest economy.

The Institutions of China's Financial System

The Handbook of China Financial System provides a comprehensive overview of the institutions that make up China's financial system. These institutions include:

- The People's Bank of China (PBOC): The central bank of China, responsible for monetary policy and financial regulation.

- The China Banking Regulatory Commission (CBRC): The regulatory body for the banking sector.
- The China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC): The regulatory body for the securities sector.
- The China Insurance Regulatory Commission (CIRC): The regulatory body for the insurance sector.
- The State Administration of Foreign Exchange (SAFE): The regulatory body for the foreign exchange market.

The Regulatory Framework of China's Financial System

The Handbook of China Financial System provides a detailed overview of the regulatory framework that governs China's financial system. This framework includes laws, regulations, and guidelines issued by the PBOC, the CBRC, the CSRC, the CIRC, and SAFE.

The regulatory framework for China's financial system is designed to:

- Protect the interests of consumers and investors.
- Maintain the stability of the financial system.
- Promote the development of the financial sector.

The Economic Environment of China's Financial System

The Handbook of China Financial System provides a detailed overview of the economic environment in which China's financial system operates. This environment includes the following factors:

- Economic growth: China's economy has grown rapidly in recent decades, averaging over 10% per year.
- Inflation: Inflation has been relatively low in China in recent years, averaging around 2% per year.
- Interest rates: Interest rates are set by the PBOC and have been generally low in recent years.
- Exchange rate: The Chinese yuan has been appreciating against the US dollar in recent years.
